Special to The Tribune

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 2.-The police and Sheriff's department of Ogden are baffled by one of the most mysterious murder cases that ever occurred in the criminal annals of Ogden. This afterroon the body of a man was found in an Oregon Short Line box car in the Southern Pacific yards. The man had been murdered, but there was absolutely nothing upon his person to reveal his identity, and the body is now lying at Larkin's morgue awaiting identifica-

Body Warm When Found.

The remarkable part of the story is that the car in question arrived in Ogden some time last night, but the man's body when found was still warm, indi-cating beyond a doubt that the man had been murdered within a few hours pre-vious to his being found. The man is about 30 years of age, six feet tall, weighe about 190 pounds, has a reddish auburn hair, grayish blue eyes, deformed right hand and is dressed in a

The car was loaded with railroad ties, and the body had been pushed through the end door of the car on the ties, and the ties and floor of the car were covered with blood. Mr McCarty immediately notified the police and the patrol wagon was sent to the scene Shot Through the Heart.

A great deal of difficulty was ex-perienced in getting the body out, and it was loaded on the patrol wagon and taken to Larkin's undertaking parlors Here it was discovered the man had been shot with a 45 calibre pistol, the ball entering the left side just below the arm, passing through the heart and ou at the right side. The ball was disclothing

Killed in the Yards.

The body, was discovered about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon, was still warm, proving that the man had been murdered some time during the afternoon in the Ogden yards. Just how this could happen without some of the many watchmen in that vicinity becoming cognizant of the fact is a mystery. The police are at the rope's end, but are working hard to find a ciue that will lead to the apprehension of murderer. The man had the appearance of having been a laborer. A pocket knife was about the only thing that was found in his pockets.

Baldwin's Airship Gets Away From Men

California Arrow Breaks Loose From Assistants and Starts on Voyage Through the Air.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 2 .- While Capt. Baldwin of San Francisco, Inventor of the California Arrow airship, and several assistants, were returning the airship from the place where it landed in St. Louis county, after its unsuccessful flight, to the World's fair aeronautic concourse, the lead rope was dragged from the hands of Baldwin's assistants and the airship broke loose and soared into the air. Two Accidents Occur.

Two accidents today prevented the ong distance trial flight arranged by Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin of San Francisco, to test the staying powers of his airship California Arrow, and what was to have been a speed demonstration around a prescribed quadriangular course of about fifteen miles developed into a drifting exhibition, the Arrow finally landing in a cornfield four miles west of the aeronautic concourse at the World's fair after the motor had been disabled by an exhaust cap again blow-ing off when the vessel had resumed its flight after the first breakdown and been repaired. In attempting to take it back to the fair grounds it got away as Airship Escapes.

The airship escaped at 8:15 o'clock to-night, just as the persons towing it into the concourse had reached the imme-diate vicinity of the place. There was a trolley line to be crossed, and it was necessary to pass the prow of the craft over the trolley wire and catch the down-hanging rope, and then release the rope that hung from the rear. In the darkness those manipulating the ropes miscalculated and both the front and rear ropes were released at the same time. In a twinkling the buoyant airship, from which had been taken twenty-five pounds of ballast, and which was not even encumbered with aeronaut Knabenshue, shot up and was gone. In the dim light projected by the nearest arc light the yellow balloon loomed indistinctly, but for enough space of time to show that the light wind was carry-ing it toward the northwest

Made the Best of It.

There was absolutely nothing for Baldwin. Knabenshue and the other members of the party to do but accept the situation and make the best of it. After some little discussion as to the probable length of time that the supply of gas would sustain the airship, Bald-win stated that he believed the Arrow would descend to the ground within an hour. The party then proceeded on to the concourse, where the announcement that the airship had escaped caused general consternation among the crowd that had remained, expecting to see the Arrow brought back.

some time, charged with having had knowledge of his son's crime, in his plea admits that he wrote the memorial regarding the necessity for the organization of the Finns, but he claims that it was without treasonable intent.

Schaumann explains that he wrote it one evening when he had nothing else to do, slibped it into a book in his library and had forgotten its existence. The contents do not betray treasonable intent. Schaumann said he never had any connection with Julius Luzu, the Wiborg agitator, and knew nothing about the latter's scheme for organizing rifle companies. Schaumann was living on a pension as a retired officer.

He concludes with saying that his unblemished reputation during thirty years service in the Russian army should have protected him against the charge of treason.

TRAIN CREW HELD UP.

Two Masked Bandits Rob All Men on Freight Train.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.-The Bulletin today says that with the arrival in Berkeley of Samuel Hume, a Wells-Fargo express messenger on the Oregon run omes the story of a desperate hold-up on the Shasta route. Two masked men robbed the train crew on the Overland freight that preceded the Oregon express freight that preceded the Oregon express by an hour or two. The men were dis-covered in a box car, and the conductor supposing them to be tramps, ordered them to leave, stopping the train between Chico and Biggs so they might get off. They then drew revolvers, robbed the train men and a colored laborer who had $50, and made their escape, firing at the cars as they departed. Three sticks of dynamite were found in the car they had occupied. The news of the hold-up had not been officially reported to either Wells-Fargo or the Southern Facille up to this afternoon.

SAINT DEFIES CHURCH ENEMIES

Temporal Dictation in Utah to Stay.

Mormons Glad to Hearken to Priestly Counsel in Politics.

Bold, Bitter and Outspoken Defense of the Present System of Religious Dominance.

To the Editor of The Tribune: SALT LAKE, Nov. 1.-While I have been disposed to ignore the vile and viclous attacks of The Tribune upon the political leaders of the Mormon church, there are limits to defamation, and I can no longer restrain my just indignation. I feel to speak plainly of the cowardly villification of the noble men who guide all the Saints of God's kingdom in the straight and narrow path of political rectitude.

By direct revelation from God, the Mormons know that their political leaders in the church are the chosen servants of the Lord on earth, and as such they look up to them and yield implicit and unquestioning obedience to them in all temporal affairs. My neck does not bow and never dld bow to any mere man, but to the undisputed servants of God. I feel to willingly yield my petty earthly opinions to their heavenly guidance. Those who know me, know that I am unbending when it comes to standing up for my rights, but I have no rights, and no other Mormon has any rights, that conflict with the wishes of the political leaders of my church. When we became Mormons we surrender our political and temporal privileges, and sacredly pledge our lives to the service of God against all the enemies of the kingdom and of even the Government itself. We are proud to yield to the commands of God as they come to us through President Joseph F. Smith, to whom God has given the keys of authority. We feel to reverence him as the prophet of God and our political and religious leader. We vote as he counsels us, not because we are forced to do so, but because we like to do so. It is an inestimable privilege, and the mere American citizen cannot feel to rejoice in it. Falsehoods and Ridicule.

Let your intentional libellers and mon gers of falsehood, lie about us and ridicule us for voting as President Smith and Apostle Smoot dictate, but we feel to care not for spleen of the bribed pen and purchased tongue. We are glad to obey the political commands of God. Let the the political commands of God. Let the Gentile enemies of the kingdom feel to make the most of it.

I am tired of evasions and denials. We Mormons are citizens of Utah and we have the Constitutional right to exercise all the prerogatives of citizenship. The Mormons have a majority of the voters and we have a right to control political, commercial and religious affairs of the State. The way we do it is none of anybody's business. Those who don't like it can let it alone.

Majority rule is good American doctrine in religion as well as in politics, and

In religion as well as in politics, and President Smith and those who willingly vote as he directs will see that the ene-mies of God's kingdom never, never, never shall control the politics of Utah. We shall control the politics of Utah. We know our rights and we feel to enforce them. We bow to no man, but we do bow to the Divine in God's servants, and those who don't may writhe under the lash of guilty conscionces or leave Utah.

Too long have Mormons been willing to hide their light, but the time has come to throw off the mask and admit that we feel to owe our political allegiance to the church and not to the Government of the Inited States. Utah is a sovereign State and her citican in a solvering state affairs in their own way as other States do. Mormons have a right to the same freedom of speech as other citizens possess, and why shouldn't we feel to speak and let the world know that we are not ashamed of our faith? Makes No Difference to Them.

Makes No Difference to Them.

As President Tanner has said, "We don't care whether these sentiments are American or not. There is something in life higher than political liberty and there are some things in life more precious than political freedom." This is the true Mormon dectrine and it is taught in every ward meeting-house in Utah. We feel to stand for God's kingdom against any republic on earth. You may howl about it to your heart's content, but it is true. We admit it and we glory in it. We will elect Mormons to all public offices and defy you to help yourselves. We have Statehood now and you can't take it away from us. Mormonism will rule in Utah by Mormon yotes, cast as the church directs through President Smith.

Throw out Apostle Smoot from the United States Senate if you wish. We will have a Mormon Governor reappoint him, or we will re-elect him until he is allowed to hold his seat. If this policy doesn't win, we shall elect some one else, but-always a Mormon, or a Mormon servitor.

The time is coming when the Saints will but—always a Mormon, or a Mormon servitor.

The time is coming when the Saints will govern the earth, and the time is not afar off when they shall hold the balance of political power in the United States. Political parties will have to bow to the Mormon church. The Mormon vote, in one solid ballot, will be cast as President Smith, the divine agent of God, directs. While the Gentlie enemies of the kingdom are split in sects and warring factions, the Mormon church with all the power that comes from perfect union, and voting as a mass, will sway the nation and decide who shall be President of this country.

Entering Wedge in Finance.

Entering Wedge in Finance.

Our entering wedge in Finance.

Our entering wedge in finance has already penetrated the sugar trust, and it will soon enter other trusts, and again will Mormonism triumph. We know the value of sticking together and controlling by the balance of power while the majorities wrangle. Mormons will in this way control the vast industries of the country as they are to control the Government.
